HOW A LADT LOST A TOOTH AND GALNED A HUBBAND.

Some months since (says the Oakland (Cal.) Times) one of the leveliest and mest accomplished daughters of a wellknown resident was thrown from her horse, and sustained, among other annoying injuries, a fracture of one of her front teeth. The delicate pearl which flashed through "lips within whose rosy labyrinth when she smiled the soul was lost" was hopelessly crushed, and marred the beauty of the lady considerably. The only remedy for its injury was to have the root of the broken tooth extracted, and a false tooth made to fill the horrid breach in her mouth.

In her distress she sought the advice of Dr. George J. Luce. She had read somowhere, or had been told by somebody, that dentistry had advanced to transplant a tooth from the mouth of another person, which would take root and bloom as it had in its original gum. Could be secure for her a match for the broken tooth? If he could he might name his price. Beauty in distress appeals to Dr. Luce never in vain, so he informed the grief-stricken maiden that such operations had been successfully performed, but in the present case the difficulty would be to discover a tnoth of such parity, delicacy and beauty as to be worthy to munch carameis and bonbons in company with those which mourned the less of their crushed companion. However, he would see what ie could do,

A month or two passed. At last the tooth was found. A young Spanaird, whose well brushed and somewhat faded habiliments indicated a struggle with fate, entered the office to receive some slight dental attention. His manners were those of a gentleman, and his conversation denoted intelligence and refinement. When he opened his mouth the doctor could hardly conecal his emotion. There was the tooth he had been looking for, flashing in the dazzling whiteness, the perfection of form and the same of purity. It was indeed a gem. The subject was approached nantiously, but when the young gentle-man spoke of his poverty the doctor offered him one hundred dollars for the tooth. The money tempted the impecunious foreigner, who immediately offered all his stock in traile on the same

An appointment was made for the next day, and a note dispatched to the lady informing her that at last the tooth was found. At the given hour the gontleman entered the front office, and the lady, closely veiled, shortly after entered the rear, for it was a part of the bargain that the gentleman was not to see the lady. The touth was extracted, the money paid, the stranger departed. Then the tooth was carefully eleansed and submitted to a delicate treatment to preserve its vitality, while the doctor was preparing the mouth of the lady for its reception. It was soon inserted and in the course of three of four hours had immovably taken root in its new home. In a few days the operation was pronounced a complete success, and Miss

- became the happiest of girls. Now for the sequel. With a woman's curiosity she was continually speculating as to whom the tooth belonged, and the gentleman in turn was cudgeling his brain for some means to ascertain the whereabouts of his tooth, which had turned the tide of his affairs so luckily. For with the money it had brought him found trip excursion tickets on sale by the had made a fortunate purchase of this popular route at all Eastern Licket stock, and stop by stop he had gone on other information about the West, call on he had a snug little bank account and patronized a fashionable tailor. Chance threw him into a select party one evening where Miss ---- happened to be present, and he commenced recounting his adventure. When he smiled and pointed to the vacant place in his mouth where the tooth had once had its home. Miss - gave a little shrick and her secret was discovered. It is rumored that out of this dental operation a veritable love match will shortly result; and in fashionable Oakland circles this romance of a tooth is just now the all absorbing topic.

We have passed through a severe crisis. It has been common in all countries. A ray of hope has dawned on us. Every sign of business is hopeful. We do not owe Europe anything of any consequence. We have gone through the debt-paying process. A few years ago we were running in debt at the rate of five hundred millions a year, but lately we have been paying off our debt at the rate of one hundred millions a year. CINCINNATI, O., August 28 .- At the close of the session of the Chamber of Commerce, this noon, Secretary of the Treasury John Sherman was introduced to the merchants by President Hartwell. He was greeted with cheers, and spoke substantially as follows: GENTLEMEN:-It gives me great Atter Saturday next we will stand upon a better basis-upon the basis of our property and our deserved credit. It has been the habit of one of your able and influential journals to charge me with all the bankrupteies of the country. If a grocer could not sell goods enough to pay his expenses, or a saloon-keeper could not sell beer enough to get rich, he took the short way of paying his debts, and this paper would announce the fact that he had been Shermanized."

We have passed through a severe crisis. It has been common in all countries. A ray of hope has dawned on us. Every sign of business is hopeful. We do not owe Europe anything of any consequence. We have gone through the debt-paying process. A few years ago we were running in debt at the rate l' five hundred millions a year, but latey we have been paying off our debt at the rate of one hundred millions a year, From this time we will be more prosperous. Dean, the woman who murdered her two children yesterday, was brought here and lodged in juil to-day. She has been children by her first husband, all of whom are dead. When asked by Dr. Pipkin how long they had been dead, she replied that they all died when very young. She says her first husband died suddenly with a congestive chill, but refused to converse about his death. It is now ascertained that her last husband's relatives have been sending her money enough to keep her comfortably, and that she now has $25 or $30. Sh says that she murdered the baby first and when she undertook to put the little five year old boy on the bed to cut his throat, that he clung to her dress and begged pitcously for his life, saying, "Oh! mamma, oh! mamma, don't kill me, don't kill me." The inhuman wretch heeded not the appeal of the poor little child, but threw him on the bed, and, after cutting his throat, struck him on the left side of the head with a splinter of iron from the railroad track to complete the work of death. The murderess is about forty years of age, of medium height, has red hair, and presents a wochegone, forlorn appearbund yellow fover patient treated Tues- ance. SPECIAL MERTING.-There will be a special meeting of the city onuncil tonight, to take measures for the protection of the city property on the rolling mill elte.

NEW TAILORING ESTABLISHMENT.-- We call particular attention to the advertisement of Mr. Edward Denz, who has opened a merchant tailoring establishment in Central Block, next door north of Wingate's lamp store. Read the advertisement carefully.

Exemplian to Torono and Port on Ray -On Wednesday, Sent. 4th, comes off the last grand excursion of the season to the points designated above. The season of the year will be most favorable for the trip, and so the fare for the round trip to Put-in-Bay is only $4.66, we shall be surprized if a large number of Denatur people do not take in this trip. WAITING FOR LUCK.

Hot ye who are listless and moping,
Sit dismally twirling your thumbs,
And gleomily waiting and watching
For something that thus never comes;
You might just as well, foolish mortals,
Expect you'll by lightning be struck;
One will happen as soon as the other!
Don't stand around waiting for luck.

There's a saving—a good and a true one—
(Take courage you poor one who delves
With a stout heart so bravely) that 'Heaven
Will help those who first help themselves;'
And you'll find, if you wish a good fortune,

A pretty good way is to tuck
Up your shirt sleeves and start out and figil it;
Don't sit around waiting for luck.

There is wealth to be had—go and seek it!
And with it get honer and fame;
By the sweat of your brow you can gain

More than Three Times

The reasons for the marked degree of success which has attended the history of the likeurs are in an sense mysterious. The sim of its publishers has ever been to furnish to their caders such a newspaper as could be safely see nomination of canventions, or to dictate have honestly endeavored to make the Rustin LICAN an impartial observer and recorder of passing events. The fact that the people have so emphatically endorsed this line of policy is the strongest argument that could be effered for its continuance.
